Arcturis Expansion Leads to Management Promotions

St. Louis, MO, January 11, 2008..... St. Louis-based architectural design firm Arcturis announced a series of management changes to accommodate and position the rapidly expanding firm for continued growth while ensuring quality control throughout its operations.

Margaret McDonald, LEED AP, has been named a Principal of the firm. David Kehm, AIA, NCARB, will assume the new position of Principal of Quality/Risk Management. John Mueller, AIA, LEED AP, has been named Principal of Architecture. Patricia Whitaker continues to head the firm as founding principal and president.

As Design Director, Ms. McDonald motivates and inspires the creative interiors group to achieve success in client satisfaction, project quality and financial performance. Her extensive corporate experience includes corporate clients such as A.G. Edwards, Edward Jones, Smurfit-Stone and Enterprise Rent-A-Car. Other clients include America's Center, Westwood Country Club, The PrivateBank and Saint Louis Art Museum. She received her Bachelor of Fine Arts in Interior Architecture from The School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

As Principal of Quality/Risk Management, Mr. Kehm will assume responsibility for developing and monitoring all quality procedures, processes, guidelines, contracts and claims. He will oversee the development of quality teams in all of the firm's practice areas and work with practice leaders to integrate procedures that ensure to improve quality and manage risk throughout Arcturis. Mr. Kehm's project involvement includes clients such as Edward Jones, the St. Charles County Sheriff's Department, the City of Frontenac, MO, Regional Justice Information Systems Data Center, Sanford-Brown College and the Herbert Hoover Boys & Girls Club. He is a graduate of Kansas State University.

As the head of Arcturis' architecture practice, Mr. Mueller works to uphold the firm's vision of serving our clients through innovative design, professional collaboration and a commitment to sustainability. He is a catalyst for the firm's commitment to design excellence and the delivery of integrated, innovative and intelligent design solutions. Mr. Mueller has been instrumental on projects for clients such as Reuters, National Information Systems Corporation, Industrial Aid, Grace Hill, and the cities of O'Fallon, IL, Frontenac, MO and St. Charles, MO. He received his bachelor of architecture from the University of Kansas after studying at the School of Architecture of Copenhagen.
